

Before we start, notes pre-globalization

- Spanish royals actively prevented trade with China #why
- Current day, emphasis was placed around those in native American regions who were anti-Spanish, yet a large majority of the individuals who really brought globalization were Spanish

1 | Effects of the Homogenocene*1.1 | Silver...

- (Most?) Important asset
- Got cheapened as soon as the Americas overflowed with it, leading to lot's of silver problems KBh-HIST201ProblemsWithSilver

1.2 | The Little Ice Age

See KBhHIST201LittleIceAge The Little Ice Age

1.3 | Capital Movement*1.3.1 | Original, pre-globalized capitals

- All located within the tropics
  - Beijing
  - Viayanagar (Hindu capital) – Cairo
- Decidedly not western
- Decidedly hot (maybe, but Beijing was definitely not hot #why)

1.3.2 | Globalized Capitals

- In the north, mostly
  - New York
  - Chicago
  - Tokyo
  - Manchester
  - London
- Much more westiner
- ...and much colder

1.4 | Food for thought

- What are some ways that the world was linked together?
- Trace the effects of a commodity around the world.
  - Silver KBhHIST201ProblemsWithSilver
  - Disease
  - Cold weather KBhHIST201LittleIceAge
  - Slaves
  - Vegetables
  - Horses
  - Wars
  - Wood
  - Corn
- What does the homogenocene mean to Mann?
  - Changes to state position?
  - Shift of power?
- What was the extent and the limits of Spanish power during this period?

---

Look out!: interesting to see when population drops///booms instead of climbing/falling slowly.

For instance, take Mexico City

- Was really "on top of it"
- But did not experience rapid growth

2 | Maps

Guiding question: what tensions and contrasts do you see between the different maps?

Look for where the boundaries don't match.

Them Maps

- When looking at GDP , remember to analyze GDP vs. Population
- Places worth interest
  - Tokyo
  - Shanghai
  - Gulf of Oman
- Places to perhaps focus
  - Transportation w.r.t economy
  - Trans-boundary Rivers w.r.t. conflicts
  - River control w.r.t. control of power
  - Religious boundaries w.r.t. sectarian violence
