#flo

1 | One

How does Conrad relate /define darkness and insanity throughout the novel? □Why does Conrad build up to Kurtz so gradually, what perception of Kurtz does Conrad want to portray?

- · Nixie's conclustion
 - Madnesss is being removed from a place you are used to
 - * Does she mean that it causes madness?
 - * says that heads are the main symbol of madness
 - *
- · Jackson says
 - That the meeting of kurtz is ironic
 - Builds up kurtzs, but when they meet him, it's anticlimatic
- · Daniel responds
 - Talks about marlows changing perception of kurts
 - Connects back to insanity
 - * nice one
- · Madeline rebuts
 - kurts was not as expected
 - but still liked kurts at the end
- Nixie says
 - About kurtz greed with ivory?
 - * not super related
- · Jackson responds
 - breaks out of dillsution, "the horror! the horror!"
- · Nixie interjects
 - Isolating causes kurtz madness
 - * relates back to her original point
 - ties into subcoincuiss
 - * Restates original point
 - * hmmmmm
- Jackson
 - There is nothing at the end

Huxley • 2021-2022 Page 1

- Madeline
 - About insanity:
 - * conrad uses drums to represent heart beat to make the jungle seem dangerous
 - * ...
- Daniel
 - As you travel the heart of darkness, you travel into kurtz mind
 - * is this true? you dont know kurtz mind till near the end
- · Nixes asks
 - How does conrad define madness?
- · Daniel adds
 - Mostly about kurtz,
 - caused by some sort of 'darkness'

2 | Two

How does Conrad relate /define darkness and insanity throughout the novel? \square Why does Conrad build up to Kurtz so gradually, what perception of Kurtz does Conrad want to portray?

- · Riley explains some context
- · Aime describes
 - dehumanization
 - objecitifes the woman
 - * beucase shes beutiful physically, marlow has more respect
 - the intended was viewed as emotional and docile
- Rowan adds
 - Beuty is inherently primal
 - * stems from necessity
 - · this is an intresting point. fits with the "Europe no better" thesis.
- anoushka
 - we dont see her often
 - justaposition off...?
 - * hard to hear
 - strange descriptions of beuty
 - * ah, the justaposition of beuty and savage?
- · riley
 - kurzt is like a cult leader

Huxley • 2021-2022 Page 2

- described similary in some fashions to the natives
- sedces his follower, buts gets seduced himself by the heart of darkness
- takes priority over rational thinking
- · aime says
 - that marlow is emotinally detached until the end
 - * even when pointing our the horrid things that are happening
- · rowan responds
 - describes violence to "his people" in much more detail
 - * huge contrast in the descriptions
 - · this is proof of racism(ish)! says rowan
 - · framed narritive means that this is weird

3 | Four (I know how to count trust me)

- 1. Is the racism in Heart of Darkness a parody of European racism during colonial times or is it Conrad's inherent racism?□□□□
- 2. How did the different people who told Marlow about Kurtz alter his opinion on him, how much did their opinions influence Marlow and why did they hold more/less value?
- 3. Calder starts
- 4. is conrad inherently racist
- 5. why do we keep talking about this? this is not related! (not what calder said)
- · Nico says
 - Conrad is truly racist
 - * becuase black people speak once or twice and are dehumanized
 - * its not satire
- · Calder respondes
 - bassicly says it can be a depiction distinc from conrads actual beliefs
 - * hard to distinguis
 - · this is a good point. thx calder
- Isabella
 - uses the n-word, therefore, is racist!
- kayla
 - pattern of the n-word, therefore, nword isnt parody, therefore, is racist!

Huxley • 2021-2022 Page 3

- an author cannot have a racist protagonist withoutgh being racist * uh · Nico says - that marlow isnt protrayed as having any flaws, and therfore, conrad is racist! · isabella responds - actully marlow is painted with flaws · kayla adds - conrad is writing about his experience through marlow * hmmmm · nico says - that conrad says that europeans have been dragged down by africa - therfore, he truly is, racist isabella asks - clarifying question calder - europe is infecting africa - europe is the heart of darkness * oooh, intrestingg - maybe both cus they were infected Question Break • isabella - what · nico - marlow describes kurtz to the intended not with his actual beliefs but with how kurtz is described to him

- says that marlow doesnt belive what he said to the intended

- did nico say this? he very well may have

- flip flops alot

· kayla disagrees with nico

Huxley • 2021-2022 Page 4